tense. Governor Beveridge is here to put out the military if there occurs any disturbance which the police can not or will not quell. If any of the judges of election attempt openly to violate the law, either by refusing to admit challengers or to recognize challengers, or the police fail in their duty, the Governor will be on hand with two regiments subject to his order.

The business men offer a reward of $500 for every illegal voter, and $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of any dishonest judge or clerk of the election. Guards for polls in the various precincts are thoroughly organized, and though the Hessian party have nearly all the Judges of Election, there are hopes that the opposition will overcome that advantage. It is said that Miller, present Treasurer, whose place Hessian wants, is behind $319,000 in his accounts. He is working for Hessian to prevent the election of a successor who will count the county money. The Staats-Zeitung, Hessian's paper, this morning contains addresses to voters in the English, German, Dutch, Polish, Scandinavian, Italian, French, Bohemian and Hebrew languages. The polls opened promptly in the first was active. A larger vote of the working people was cast in the morning than ever before. There has been squabbling in a moderate way from the first, but nothing serious up to this time.

IN MISSISSIPPI.
Vicksburg, Nov. 2.—It is generally believed that the Democrats will carry this State with little opposition. In some of the strongest Republican counties there is no Republican ticket in the field and there is a remarkable lack of leadership in the Republican party.

Fatal Shooting.

PORTSMOUTH, Pa., Nov. 2.—About ten o'clock this morning a party of men got into an altercation in a saloon at Millersville, when John McVeigh shot Anthony McCale, of Primrose, in the bowels. McCale is not expected to recover. The quarrel originated from a dispute last night at a ball, given by a fire company.

Election Riot.
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 2.—Much excitement prevails in this city over the election, and street brawls are numerous throughout the city. In the Fifth ward about eleven o'clock a mob of about two hundred negroes made a raid upon a voting place and fired several shots into the crowd. They also attacked the police. It was not until the officers had emptied their revolvers that the ruffians were dispersed.

Mormon Matter--Rothschilde.
SALT LAKE, Nov. 2.—Brigham Young's health is unchanged. He is still under arrest, and says he will live and die in prison before paying the alimony.

Elder George Reynolds, a prominent member of the Mormon Church, arrested for polygamy some time since, but discharged on account of the illegality of the Grand Jury, was again indicted by the present Grand Jury for polygamy, and arrested to-day.

Baron Rothschild, the Paris banker, and party, are here, en route for Australia.

Latest Local.

A REWARD of $25 is offered for the recovery of a horse and wagon, stolen on last Saturday from Fred. Schurich, of Miami town. The description is, bay mare 6 years old, and red wagon.

ELIZABETH WHEERVILLE, of No. 572 Race street, has been missing since last Friday evening. Her description is, sixteen and a half years old, five feet high, compactly built, light complexion, scar on right cheek, light grey eyes.

HOWE and Manning, the men who were arrested a few days ago for a burglary committed at 162 West Sixth street, were sent to the Work-house for 30 days by Judge Lindeman this morning on the charge of having burglars' tools in their possession.

JOHN WESTERMAN, a saloonist at Fifteenth and Plum, was arrested this morning for passing a counterfeit two-dollar bill, on the National Bank of Peru, Ill., on F. Hoffman, 340 Central avenue. He will be taken before the U. S. Commissioner this afternoon for examination.

THE Rev. Henry D. Moore regrets to inform a STAR reporter that the horse and buggy, which an enterprising journal would have him presented with, has failed to come to time. He is content to "walk the paths of life." The nag must be a slow one, and the vehicle somewhat dilapidated.

BOLLY LEWIS, although widely known for his benevolence in all required cases, did not act so conspicuous at a certain religious meeting last Sunday as a contemporary would have him. Mr. Lewis neither "passed the platter" nor did he place upon the platter any "new crisp one-hundred dollar bill."

A MAN, who had been registered as Ludwig Riegl, of Mt. Pleasant, at the Madison House on Sunday, committed suicide in his room at the hotel yesterday afternoon, by hanging himself to a hook in the wall. From papers found on his body it is thought that his name is Andreas Gebhard. The supposed cause is dissipation and destitution.

The bids for advertising forfeited lands were opened by Auditor Humphreys yesterday afternoon. The STAR offered to do the work for $218.50, the Enquirer bid one cent a line, and the Times ten per cent, less than the lowest bidder. The only matter of interest in this to the public is that the Enquirer values its columns at one cent per line, and the Times considers its space worth ten per cent, less than that of any other paper in the city.

THE NEWTOWN MURDER.

Arrest of the Perpetrators and their Statement of the Affair.

A most horrible and shocking murder was committed about nine o'clock last night in the usually quiet little village of Newtown, in Anderson township. The murderer is a well-known man by the name of James Harpe; his victim one Harmon Webber, a laborer on the Union Bridge levee and a resident of Newport, Ky. Webber is described as having been a peaceable, quiet man, about twenty-five years of age, employed as a laborer under Harpe, who is the "boss" of the bridge work.

The quarrel that finally resulted in murder, had been brewing for weeks past, Harpe having taken up the idea that Webber was trying to supersede him in his position as levee "boss." He overbearing and marked had Harpe come in his treatment of Webber that the latter was obliged to throw up his position, and was about to return to his home in Newport, which intention he was only prevented from carrying out by the taking of his life by the murderer Harpe. At the supper table, last evening, of the boarding-house in Newtown, where both men temporarily resided, the old quarrel was renewed, when it was Weaver struck Harpe with a poker and after the other boarders had interfered and separated the contestants, Webber walked across the street to Dusque & Turpin's drug store, where he called for a drink. He had scarcely entered the store when Harpe, in a terrible rage, burst in upon him, threatening to have his life's blood. Harpe's sister and father interfered to prevent the murder, and Webber, who was unarmed, not knowing the desperate character of his enemy, shrank back into the corner near the prescription desk and crouched down upon his knees before his murderer. It was in this position that Harpe rushed upon him, not heeding the terror-stricken cries of his sister, who clung about him and begged for the life of his victim, nor yet the entreaties of his father, who besought him not to stain his soul with blood, but crazed by liquor and demon within him, he thrust his pistol over the shoulders of his sister and father, placing it almost within the mouth of the helpless and cornered man, and fired.

Webber fell with a heavy thud to the floor, with a stream of warm red blood gushing from his mouth, and in a moment even a groan, only one or two convulsive struggles died. Harpe's sister fainted, falling over the prostrate and bleeding victim of her brother's fury, while he, the murderer, rushed from the scene of his cowardly murder, jumped into a wagon that was standing near and drove with lightning speed toward Cincinnati. Word was immediately sent to the Patton Police Station and several patrolmen were dispatched at once to search for the murderer. At 11 o'clock last night Chief of Police Snelbaker received the following dispatch:

PLAINVILLE, O., Nov. 1, 1875.

"CHIEF OF POLICE: A man named James Harpe, of medium height, light complexion, has fresh blood wound on back of right ear, shot and killed a man in Newtown about eight o'clock this evening. Is at large; look out for him. 'DAN JONES, Justice.'"

Chief Snelbaker this morning received the following, which explains itself:

PLAINVILLE, O., Nov. 2, 1875.

Col. Thos. E. Snelbaker: We last night arrested John Barriker, Josie Barriker and Jas. Harpe and Hiram Harpe, all the parties connected with the murder of Harmon Webber at Newtown. James Harpe, who fired the fatal shot, was so badly injured by the blow of a poker, that Dr. Highlands would not consent to his removal last night; but at 7:35 his morning pronounced him well enough to be taken to the city, consequently we will arrive on the 10:30 train this morning with the prisoner.

Respectfully, THOS. McHUGH, MICHAEL DUFTY, CHAS. KLEIN, Sixth D. St. Police Station.

WHAT HARPE SAYS ABOUT IT.

In an interview with James Harpe, in Col. Snelbaker's office, this morning, he said to a STAR reporter: Last Friday Webber and I were working on the bridge. We were going to Newtown in a wagon. We commenced to talk. He said that no man could drive a team like him. I said, "I can." He called me a liar: "You can't drive nothing, you son of a—." "Well," I said, "if I'm one, you're one." He then jumped off the wagon and rather a bowler, and said, "You —, I'll split your head open." Then the rest of the crowd told him to stop. We then went to Ike's tavern, where we were boarding. I sat down, and he came up to me and shook his fist in my face and dared me out doors. We went out the door, and then he said, "Now, you —, I'm going to kill you." I told him to hit me. But he didn't do it, and that was over. Last night I went into the bar-room to comb my hair and Webber came up behind me and knocked me down with a poker. He then ran out and got a revolver from the drug store, Turpin's. After a while I went into the drug store, and seeing Webber, I said to him, "Now, Webber, if you want to fight me, come out like a man." He pulled his revolver out of his coat pocket and another out of his back pocket, and says, "You —, I'm going to kill you." My father tried to keep us apart. After a while I started out, and then he broke away and came to the door and wanted to shoot, but he went back and got hold of my sister, who had followed me down to the store, and was choking her, and Bent Anderson and a fellow from Kentucky named Apple had my father choking him. When I saw this I went back into the store and shot Webber; after that I went right home and went to bed, and stayed there until the officers came, about 10 o'clock last night.

The prisoner states that he has never been in the penitentiary, as the prison charge him. He is a young man—23 years old—December with light hair, and mustache and chin whiskers, and weighs about 145 pounds. His sister, Mrs. Barriker, and her husband, who accompany father and son, are fine-looking people, well dressed, and seem to belong to the higher walks of life.

Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Several pastors of different denominations in this city, who were apprehensive that the Government was about to abandon its peace policy against the Indians, called upon the President to express their conviction that such a course would greatly disappoint the Christian people all over the country, and be a blow to the cause of Christianity throughout the world. The President, with great promptness and precision, replied that he did not regard the peace policy as a failure, and that it was not only not to be abandoned while he occupied that place, but that it was his hope that, during his administration, it could be so firmly established as to become the necessary policy of his successors. In that he might possibly be mistaken. The only change proposed was that of having supplies for the Indians purchased and distributed by the military officers, who should be strictly punished should they prove unfaithful. The President said it was a mistake to suppose that the military would make trouble with the Indians. It took them no time to the frontier. There was no glory to be gained by fighting Indians, and as to promotion by death of superiors, that was out of the question, for they always made the Second Lieutenants do all the fighting. As to Commissioner Smith, the President said, I think a good deal of him, and believe his greatest fault to be that he is unwilling to sacrifice men before he is convinced of their guilt. The clergyman's remark was encouraged by the interview.

New York.

A Scientific Hoax--Sale of Pictures--Dr. Storrs--Rescued Sailors--Cuba.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The largest single private sale of oil paintings ever made in this country took place at Goupil's Gallery yesterday. Masterpieces by Meissonier were sold, and realized large prices. A painting of Moliera brought $11,000. The "Last Game," by Meissonier, brought $12,000; other single paintings brought $10,000, $8,000 and $5,000, respectively. The collection, which embraces works of the highest class, is to be sent to Europe.

It is said that a scientific gentleman of this city, who has already given to the world some important contributions in topography, has discovered a process by which he is enabled to estimate the body of ore contained in a mine just opened.

Rev. Dr. Storrs, of Brooklyn, has accepted a call to reside over the First Church in New York.

The steamer ship, from Bermuda, arrived yesterday, bringing Capt. Gifford and crew, twenty-nine in all, of the American bark Edward Everett, abandoned October 11th, the crew having been taken off and carried to Bermuda by the Dutch brig Havana. The Camina also brought Captain Casanova and a crew of ten men of the Portuguese schooner Pedro I., which foundered October 31st, near Bermuda.

The Herald's special from Washington says politicians are greatly perplexed as to the nature of our relations with Spain on the subject of Cuba, but it is believed that the Washington note will prove to be a proposal to the Government for the purchase of Cuba; that President Grant regards with uneasiness the probability of an early triumph of the Cuban rebels and the establishment of an independent republic on the island, thus rendering the island a neutral and dangerous point for the Government in the event of war, and that Caleb Cushing, through instructions has offered the Spanish Government the alternative of selling Cuba to the United States or abiding the consequences of refusing.

A Race for Life.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Brother and Nicholson, sentenced to death for murder, at Coshatta, fled their shackles and escaped from Jail. Officers are in pursuit.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—President Chapin, of the Boston and Albany railroad, has abandoned his intention, for the present at least, of withdrawing the train leaving Boston, at 9 A. M., for Albany, N. Y., carrying the last mail for the West.

Laid Up.

AUGUSTA, GA., Nov. 2.—Captain Thos. G. Young died suddenly here this morning, aged 65. He was an old well-known whaler, and commanded the ship Favorite, of New Bedford, when it was captured by the rebel cruiser Shenandoah. He had an unsettled claim against the Government of $50,000, for the loss of the ship.

The King and Queen.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The King and Queen of Denmark and Princess Thyra arrived at Dover to-day.

The Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury for November was impaneled and commenced its labors at 2 P. M. to-day. The following are the names: John A. Ashbury, Geo. A. Wilhelm, Frank Hocken, John Foss, Thos. A. Ellis, Louis Hageman, John J. Ferguson, J. M. McKensie, Wm. A. C. Cosby, Jesse J. Leeds, F. T. Lockwood, John Hutton, Wm. Dunkannon, H. M. Harbaugh, Lewis J. Vlasco.

Late Foreign News.

IN THE DOMINION.

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—An Amboy special states that the tug Griffin was burned. The crew had a narrow escape. Loss unknown. Fully insured.

The trial of Miller and wife for arson and the murder of James and Mary Nash, who were burned to death in Miller's Church yesterday, came up at Assize Court to-day, and will not be the last some days. The case creates much excitement in the city.

PORT STANLEY, ONTARIO, Nov. 2.—The schooner Gibson, bound from Toledo to Buffalo with a cargo of wheat, went ashore near Port Burwell yesterday and is supposed to be a total loss. No insurance. The Schooner Algoma, which left Port Burwell Sunday evening with a cargo of lumber, is reported lost and all hands gone down with her. The heaviest gale for years has been raging here since Saturday. The weather is now beginning to clear up.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—The Witness of last evening had the following, so far as we can learn, on the funeral of the late Mr. Guibord. It will take place on Thursday or Friday, but it is generally believed it will be on Friday, the 6th. No application has been made to the Bishop for leave to deposit the sarcophagus in the grave. His lordship declines to say whether he will give permission or not. He can not, however, see the necessity for such an arrangement as he does not appear to have any disturbance or attempt to raise the remains. Colonel Fletcher, Military Secretary to the Governor General, declines to say whether the militia will be ordered out or not. The Mayor has taken the opinion of three most eminent counselors as to his powers and duty, and will be guided strictly by their advice. He will not shrink his duty, and so far as we can learn, will afford all the protection in his power to the procession, both with the police and military forces.

THE KING.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The King and Queen of Denmark and Princess Thyra arrived at Dover to-day.

ON 'CHANGE.

Announcement of the Death of John S. Sloan.

President Chas. H. Holloway, at noon to-day, on 'Change, called the members together, and announced the sudden demise of Mr. Jno. S. Sloan in the following remarks:

"Gentlemen of this Board: It is a painful duty I have in announcing the death of one of our most active members. Died suddenly, at his residence on N. 1430 F. M., John S. Sloan, an active member of this body. Gentlemen, I am pained to announce this sad and sudden death of our worthy brother. I have had the opportunity of a social acquaintance with the deceased, and have learned with many of you to admire his manly and generous nature, but he has been taken from us in the zenith of his usefulness. There are few of our members better known on this floor than was John S. Sloan. He has held positions of trust and honor on your most important committees and has been Vice President of this Chamber, and in such positions of honor and trust he always did his duty conscientiously. Gentlemen, he was with us yesterday, full of life, full of hope and vitality, to-day he is gone; which is plainly illustrative that in the midst of life, we are in death. The funeral will be announced in to-morrow's papers. Gentlemen of the Chamber, what notice will you take?"

On motion of A. J. Mullane, Esq., a committee of five members were appointed to draft suitable resolutions. President Holloway announced as such committee S. F. Covington, Benj. Eggleston, W. H. Gilpin, Joseph A. Wrenn and Chas. E. Hayward.

L. C. Damarin, Esq., one of Portsmouth's heaviest grocers and most solid men, is in town.

Solicitor Strong is in Columbus to-day, looking after the city's interests in the Humphreys mandamus case.

Rev. Wm. Gausepohl conducted the St. Saviour's day exercises at the Coryville Church yesterday afternoon.

Messrs. L. Hegewisch, F. de Sevilla, Oscar E. Wheeler and Edward Earle, all of New York, are at the Grand Hotel.

Mr. Frank J. Oakes, of the Crawford House, has been appointed Commissioner of the New Orleans Industrial Exposition.

Mr. S. S. Harris, of Waynesville, a prominent railroad man, is in the city in the interests of the Miami Valley Narrow-gauge road.

Rev. Father Ubaldus, of St. Francis Church, conducts some unusually interesting services at St. George's Church, Coryville, on Sunday next.

Mr. D. Allen and S. Irons, Esq., two of Lebanon's heavy men, are in the city to-day, looking after the affairs of the Miami Valley Narrow-gauge Railroad.

President Ingalls, of the L. C. & L. railroad, was yesterday re-elected to his position as Director and President. Mr. Ingalls' reputation as a railroad man is of the best, and is only equalled by his popularity with the general public. Everybody who has to do with the L. C. & L. will congratulate themselves upon his re-election.
